Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 11b	The Form 990 filing was thoroughly reviewed and approved by both the Executive Director and the Chair of the Audit Committee, ensuring compliance with all applicable regulations and organizational standards.
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 12c	The ethical standards, to which each EBCPA employee must strictly adhere to, includes an obligation for each employee to conduct their personal and professional activities to avoid any actual or potential conflict of interest, or the appearance of a conflict of interest between such employee's obligations and responsibilities to their role at EBCPA and any other obligations and duties they may have which are not affiliated with EBCPA. We recognize that this is largely a matter of personal judgment; accordingly, the purpose of this policy is to offer guidance and general direction and are not intended to provide a comprehensive list of all situations that may arise. The main purpose of this policy is to ensure full disclosure and open communication between all parties so that all parties benefit, and no party is adversely impacted by such participation in outside professional or personal activities. If, in addition to his or her work for EBCPA, an employee is employed by, associated with, promotes, sponsors or supports a program, institution or organization other than EBCPA, he or she must be careful to avoid situations in which the interest of the EBCPA students, programs, community or funders actually or potentially conflicts with the interests of such other program, institution or organization. Moreover, the employee must, if possible, avoid the appearance of such a conflict of interest. Therefore, if an EBCPA employee proposes or considers recommending or introducing an existing or prior student of EBCPA to another program institution or organization, by making such recommendation or introduction directly to the student or through his or her parent or other mentor, the employee must notify and seek prior approval from the Executive Director, or his or her designate. The intent of this disclosure is to ensure that EBCPA employees demonstrate interest in the wellbeing and education of all of its students as well as to support the collective goals of the institution. This rule, as to the avoidance of conflict of interest and seeking prior approval from the Executive Director or his or her designee, applies equally to an EBCPA employee's own activities. Thus, if an EBCPA employee proposes or considers involving an existing or prior student of EBCPA in non-EBCPA activities in which he or she is involved or which he or she conducts that are similar in type to activities offered or available to such student at EBCPA, (including, for instance, teaching, instruction, or participation in lessons, classes, workshops, ensembles or performances apart from such activities at the EBCPA), the employee must notify and seek prior approval from the Executive Director, or his or her designate. Employees should not engage in any activities or outside employment that creates an actual or potential conflict of interest between the employee's interests and their ability to complete their job duties effectively, efficiently and objectively. EBCPA prohibits any employee from publicizing, providing or making available to any other program, institution, organization or individual any intellectual property, (including designs, plans, ideas, and data) proprietary video or audio recordings, and any other confidential, trade secret or proprietary materials generated by EBCPA, its employees, its faculty employees, or its students while participating in EBCPA activities, unless such publication or provision is duly authorized by the prior approval of the Executive Director or designee. Prior to committing to an engagement which includes EBCPA students, an employee must disclose the engagement and receive prior approval from the Executive Director or designee. In some cases, the Executive Director may determine that written approval is required. Any employee who violates this policy, whether he or she gains personally or not as a result, may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination. Failure to disclose the fact of a conflict or potential conflict may constitute grounds for disciplinary action, up to and including termination. This policy in no way prohibits employee affiliations or activities that are protected under applicable state and federal laws, including but not limited to any activity that is protected under Section 7 of the National Labor Relations Act, which regarding their wages, hours and terms and conditions of employment.
